

NEW DIRECTORS ARE NAMED BY LIBRARY BOARD

The board of directors of the Adams County Free Library association, at its meeting in the library Friday night, elected two new directors to fill the unexpired terms of two who had resigned. G. R. Smith, Orrtanna, was elected to take the place of Howard Musselman, Orrtanna, on the board, and William M. Lott, Gardners R. D., replaces Mrs. Harold Lerew.

The financial report for June showed total receipts of $337.58, including one new life membership, $205 from school boards, $14 in fines, 25 cents, fees, and $13.33 from other sources. School contributions included $180 from Mt. Pleasant township, $90 for this year and $90 for next year. A contribution of $25 from Berwick township and $10 from McSherrystown were also reported. Total receipts of the library for the year to-date were shown as $8,073.64, which, with the balance of $409.03 on hand January 1, brought the total to $8,482.67.

Expenditures for the month were $616.57, including $255.30 for salaries; $25.61 for books and periodicals; $83.85 for supplies and printing; $25 for furniture and equipment; $39.16 for bookmobile operation; $143.61 bookmobile maintenance; $25.95 for extra assistants and $8.09 miscellaneous.

Balance in the Gettysburg National bank on June 30, 1947, was reported as $4,886.75.

Reach 10,000 Mark

During the month the addition of new books brought the library's total number to the 10,000 mark, Miss Kathryn Oller, librarian, reported. Seventy-five books were purchased and 200 donated. Sixty-one books were withdrawn from circulation, however, during the month, their use having rendered them no longer fit for service.

Total book circulation for the month was 2,183, Miss Oller reported. Circulation at the main library in Gettysburg was 1,291; school stations, 395, of which Littlestown showed the best record; and branch libraries, 497. Total circulation for the year to-date is 63,056.

Miss Oller reported that there was a possibility that the bookmobile truck may be converted before the fall school term opens and it resumes its trips.

A new cataloging system, with cards obtained from the Library of Congress, has been installed, the librarian reported, and 1,230 books cataloged during June.

Acknowledge Donations

The following donations to the library for June and July to date, were announced by Miss Oller:

Gettysburg: E. S. Charles Knox, books; Mrs. E. S. Lewars, books and magazines; Donald P. McPherson, Jr., magazines; Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, magazines; Paul Singmaster, magazines; O. H. Benson, pamphlets; Mrs. David Blocher, books; Frank N. Britcher, magazines; Christian Science Society, newspaper; Vance A. Criswell, book; William A. Eckert, magazines; Robert Portenbaugh, books; the Rev. Luther A. Gotwald, books; Miss Lela Hartman, books; Wilmer Hartman, magazines; Jean B. Hoover, magazines; John H. Knickerbocker, magazines.

Other donors were: Philip Wagaman, Hanover R. 4, books; Mrs. Anna Weaver, Littlestown, books; Zion Reformed church, Arendtsville, books; Dayton M. Kohler, Blacksburg, Va., books.

The August meeting of the library board will be dispensed with, and the next meeting will be held September 5.

DAVID M. STITT EXPIRES TODAY

David M. Stitt, 87, Taneytown R. 2, died at the Warner hospital this morning at 4 o'clock from infirmities of age. He had been a patient at the hospital for 10 days.

Mr. Stitt, a retired farmer and steel worker, was born in Armstrong county, a son of the late John F. and Margaret A. (Priar) Stitt. He resided with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Z. O. Fiscus, Taneytown R. 2, and formerly resided with them in Baltimore. Mr. Stitt was a member of the Odd Fellows of Vandergrift.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Fiscus, and Miss Vivian J. Stitt, Baltimore; one grandson, James D. Fiscus, Taneytown, and one brother, James, Atwater, Ohio.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Thompson funeral home, Vandergrift. Interment at Apollo.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Earl Foulk, McKnightstown, pleaded guilty to a charge of open lewdness brought against him by borough police before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore, Friday. He was held for court this morning.

Cyclist Hurt In Crash On Wednesday

Gene Zinn, Hanover, suffered a fracture of the left wrist and an injury to his right wrist when the motorcycle he was operating figured in a collision with a car driven by M. Fulton Hearn, Hanover, at the intersection of Main street and the Oxford road, at the eastern edge of McSherrystown, Wednesday evening. Zinn received treatment at the Hanover hospital, where he was taken by Hearn.

Chief of Police Manard Masemer, McSherrystown, who investigated the accident, said that Zinn had been going toward McSherrystown from Midway and Hearn was crossing the intersection about to enter Elm avenue when the collision occurred. The cycle hit the right rear fender of the car, according to the officer's report. The motorcycle was considerably damaged as was the fender of the automobile.

JAMES R. SELL, GRACE E. GROFT TO BE MARRIED

Miss Grace Elizabeth Graft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Graft, Union Mills, Md., will become the bride of James Robert Sell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holman Sell, Littlestown, Pa., this evening at 7 o'clock in St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, Md., at a candlelight service. The Rev. Dr. Frederick R. Seibel, pastor, will conduct the ceremony. The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Cyril L. Graft.

The maid of honor will be Roma Matthias, and the best man Harold O. Harner, both of Littlestown.

The bride will wear a gown of white satin with a medium train, and a fingertip veil, and coronet of seed pearls. She will carry a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and baby's breath. The maid of honor will wear an aqua gown and will carry a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath.

A 15-minute organ recital will be given before the ceremony by Roy Hoover, York. Miss Marie Budde, instructor of voice at Hood college, will sing "Ave Maria," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mr. Hoover will play the traditional wedding marches.

Reception To Follow

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in St. Mary's parish house. The table will be decorated with a 3-tier wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. Following the reception, the couple will leave on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, and the Middle West. The bride's going away outfit will be a brown suit with brown and gold accessories. Upon their return, the couple will live for the present at the home of the groom.

The bride is a graduate of the Westminster high school, class of 1943, and of Hood college, class of 1947. She will teach music at Taneytown high school next term. The groom is a graduate of Littlestown high school, class of 1942. He attended Thompson Business college, York, and is an employee of the Littlestown National bank. He spent a short time in the United States Navy.

Railroad Is Sued For Starting Fire

An action in trespass against the Reading railroad has been started in Adams county court by Clark L. Fetter, Gardners R. D.

Attorney Richard A. Brown, who is representing Fetter, said that the suit is being brought to secure payment for damages to the Fetter property caused when sparks from a Reading engine set fire to his property.

Last Polio Health Hint: Avoid Sudden Chilling!

Sudden chilling such as plunging into cold water on a very hot day should be avoided as the sixth and final health precaution that should be observed in the polio season—June through September—the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis cautions through its local chapter.

Scientific research financed by March of Dimes funds has shown that when laboratory animals exposed to the polio virus were suddenly chilled, twice as many developed acute and paralyzing attacks of the disease as did a control group which had been protected from sudden temperature changes.

Therefore, take no chances. To be on the safe side avoid sudden chilling, the National Foundation advises.

Covered Bridge At Knoxlyn Is One Of County's Oldest Landmarks; Believed Built More Than Century Ago; Being Replaced By Steel Span

If steel is received on schedule, by October 1 a new double span, stone and steel bridge over Big Marsh creek at Knoxlyn, will replace one of the county's oldest landmarks, a covered bridge which has been there so long no one The Gettysburg Times was able to contact, remembers the exact date when it was built.

Jacob I. Hereter, 133 Chambersburg street, whose father owned and operated Hereter's mill, near the old bridge, estimated that the bridge had been there more than 100 years. His mother, he said, would be more than this age if she were alive, and he says he does not remember her ever mentioning any other bridge or fording at this point.

Several years ago a survey map of all county bridges was made, but Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk in the county commissioners' office, says the date the Knoxlyn bridge was built does not show on this map, and he has no record of it. Work is under way now on the two spans which will replace this landmark. The covering of the old bridge has been removed, and its ancient timbers, still sturdy after a century or more of use, lie exposed like some prehistoric skeleton.

Will Cost $56,000

The new bridge will be 90 per cent complete by August 1, according to the contractor, F. L. Grant, Chester, Pa. It will cost $56,000. It will have a 450-foot approach from the north and a 1,300 foot approach from the south. The bridge itself will have a 16-foot roadway. The road is being straightened and the new bridge will not occupy the site of the old one, which will remain until its successor is opened to traffic. Then it will be torn down.

Passing of the old covered bridge recalls that the Hereter mill, located on Marsh Creek a short distance east of the bridge, itself more than 100 years old, burned about 25 years ago. It was never rebuilt.

Traces of the old stone foundations and the old mill race still remain, however.

According to Mr. Hereter, the farm and mill were owned first by George Trostle, who sold his property to John Weigle, Mr. Weigle in turn sold out to Isaac Hereter, father of Jacob I. Hereter, and Abraham Mickley. Mr. Hereter later acquired full title to the property.

The old deed to the farm and mill is in the possession of Mrs. J. Kermit Hereter, a daughter-in-law of Jacob I. Hereter.

While a history of the Knoxlyn bridge could not be unearthed, histories of other covered bridges in Adams county reveal a striking contrast in the cost of such structures in their day, as compared with what the new bridge is costing.

Early Span Cost $549.50

One of the first bridges on record in the county was the wooden span across the Little Conewago at Delone's mill, on the road from Gettysburg to McSherrystown. The contract was let April 7, 1825, and the cost was $549.50.

One of the first covered bridges was the 213-foot bridge over the Great Conewago at Geiselman's mill (East Berlin). Contract was let January 12, 1826, and the cost was $3,850.

A sixty-foot span covered bridge over Little Beaver creek, near Smith's mill below East Berlin, erected jointly by York and Adams counties in 1832, cost $1,595.

Other early covered bridges in the county were:

A 55-foot covered bridge across Latimore creek on the road between Gettysburg and Harrisburg in 1833, cost $900.

A 75-foot covered bridge across the Great Conewago between Oxford and Carlisle, near Henry Myers' mill, 1836, cost, $1,350.

A 65-foot covered bridge over the Little Conewago near Kitzmiller's mill on the Littlestown-Hanover road, in 1837, cost $1,690.

A 70-foot covered bridge over the

Old Covered Bridge To Be Replaced

The old covered bridge near Knoxlyn will soon be replaced by a modern steel and stone span. In the top photo (above) is shown the old landmark, partially dismantled. It will be torn down when the new bridge is completed. In the lower picture are shown progress of the work on the new span, the approaches, north and south, and the old structure on the left.

STATE PLANNING RESURFACING OF BIGLERVILLE RD.

Resurfacing of a section of the Biglerville road, starting near Grandview Terrace and extending to the Reading railroad crossing, will begin as soon as final plans are received from the state highway department, Harrisburg, according to J. William Kendlehart, Jr., county superintendent.

Word was expected at any moment, Mr. Kendlehart said, and when work is started, the Biglerville road will be closed and a detour for this section provided over the Table Rock road to Van Dyke's Corners. The new stretch of highway will be about two miles in length.

State employees completed the resurfacing of the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road from York Springs to Heidelsburg on Wednesday, except for some grading of the shoulders. A section from York Springs to the county line was completed last year.

The state highway department has between 50 and 60 miles of roads in Adams county to which surface treatment will be applied, Mr. Kendlehart said. This work, and the Biglerville road will keep the county gangs busy for the balance of the summer.

Has Parts Of Two Fingers Amputated

Roy Baker, Emmitsburg, had the distal ends of his right index and middle fingers amputated at the Warner hospital after he had cut them while using a saw Friday morning. He was discharged after being treated.

John Butler, Aspers R. 1, submitted to an operation for the amputation of the distal portion of his right middle finger Friday which was crushed when caught between two logs.

The following submitted to operations this morning for the removal of their tonsils: Mary Prosser, Gardners R. 2; John Balmer, Emmitsburg; Mary Smith, Westminster R. 7; Fred Michael, Hanover; Eleanor Eck, Lee-Meade Inn; Wilbur Leroy Grossnickel, Keymar, Md., and Eileen Curley, Gettysburg R. 3.

Other admissions included Kenneth Fissel, Gettysburg R. 2; Edith Fisher, Bridgeton, N. J., R. 4, and Mrs. Leon Wizezman, Gettysburg R. 2. Those discharged were Elsie M. Mays, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Littlestown R. 1, and Mrs. Adam Reibling, Hanover R. 2.

PAYS CODE FINE

Ruth Easer, Carlisle R. 5, has paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Straban township, on a charge of not wearing glasses as called for by her driver's license. The charge was laid by state police.

STUDENT IS CHARGED

Stewart Donald Schlueter, 225 West Lincoln avenue, a Gettysburg college student, was charged this morning before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder by borough police, with reckless driving.

Here And There News Collected At Random

We have been asked to notify all veterans of World War II that their claims for unused leave under the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946 must be postmarked no later than September 1, 1947. Claims filed after that date will not be considered. The only exception to this is where an individual, whose record of discharge has been or may be corrected after September 1, 1946, to show that he was separated from the service under honorable conditions, in which case the claim must be filed not later than one year following the date his record was corrected.

The motorcycle nuisance in Gettysburg has reached a new high. Almost nightly a dozen or so motorcycles do some so-called fancy parading through the streets of town, sparking their exhaust to effect the shooting of a gun and generally making complete nuisances of themselves, to the disgust of most citizens.

Weaving in and out of traffic, making U-turns at dangerous intersections or in the center of the block, these cyclists, in the main, are serious hazards and should be curbed. Proper operation of these cycles is all right but most of the present drivers we have seen in recent weeks are dangerous operators.

Aircraft designers are watching closely the results of tests being conducted by the University of California of pilots flying in prone positions. 100 former AAF and Navy pilots are acting as guinea pigs in the experiments which may require two years.

Park Service To Preserve Painting

Ned J. Burns, chief, museum division, National Park Service, of Chicago, Ill., and Carle Ciampaglia, mural painter, were in Gettysburg Friday inspecting the cyclorama painting of Pickett's Charge with the view of restoring the valuable piece.

Mr. Ciampaglia, an expert on cleaning and restoring murals, made a thorough inspection of the painting and will devise means of preserving it. The principal effort will be inaugurated at once to stop the deterioration of the huge painting by Paul Philippateaux.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued today at the court house to Robert Thomas Eckenrode, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eckenrode, Hanover, and Rita Teresa Willet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Willet, McSherrystown.

EARLY PEACHES, NEW POTATOES ON LOCAL MART

Eggs went up again on the Farmers' Market today, large whites selling at a top figure of 64 cents a dozen. Others were from 60 to 64 cents, and pullet eggs were priced as low as 40 cents a dozen. The price of fryers was down to 60 and 62 cents a pound today. They have been 65 cents for weeks. Roasters remained at 90 cents a pound.

The first early peaches appeared on the mart, and brought 20 cents a quart box. New strawberry apples were priced at 15 cents a quart box, or 25 cents a quarter peck. Red raspberries sold for 25 cents a pint box, and 45 cents a quart and black raspberries were 40 cents. Some sold lower.

Sweet cherries brought 40 cents a quart and sour cherries were offered for 30 cents a quart. Cucumbers for pickles were 15 cents a dozen. Peas were 20 cents a quart. Small sugar peas sold for 25 cents a quart.

Squash, New Potatoes
Green beans were 15 cents a quart or 25 cents a quarter peck. Yellow beans were also 15 cents a quart. Long-necked squash were 10 and 15 cents each; carrots, 10 cents a bunch; cabbage, six cents a pound; new potatoes, 15 cents a quart box, 25 cents a quarter peck and 45 cents a half peck; red potatoes, 15 and 20 cents a quart box; radishes, 10 cents a bunch; beets, 10 cents a bunch; onions, 10 cents a bunch; lettuce, 10 cents a box.

A small supply of bacon sold for 60 cents a pound and cured ham for 30 cents a pound. Butter was 65 and 70 cents a pound; sweet cream, 35 cents a pint and cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint.

A marriage license has been granted in Westminster to Marlin C. Miller and Doris L. Reedy, Gettysburg.

GUARDS AND POLICE KILL 5 NEGRO CONVICTS; WOUND 8

Brunswick, Ga., July 12 (AP)—Guards and police officers shot five negro convicts to death and wounded eight others—one fatally—in a mass attempt to escape yesterday from a prison camp near this southeast Georgia coastal city.

The shooting melee began, Ward W. G. Worthy said, when one of the convicts attacked and sought to disarm him. He said the police officers had been called to the camp earlier to aid prison guards in quelling a disturbance.

Major C. A. Williams, head of the state Department of Prisons, sent two investigators from Atlanta to make an inquiry into the shooting.

Warden Worthy said the officers and guards opened fire with shotguns and rifles when a group of 27 negro convicts raced toward a 12-foot fence enclosing their prison camp.

The gunfire felled 13. Five were killed by the blast. Eight were wounded, two critically, one of whom

Germanus Orndorff Promoted To Corporal

Germanus W. Orndorff, McSherrystown, has been promoted to the rank of corporal, it has been announced by GHQ Special News Service of General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo.

Assigned to the Headquarters and Service Group, he is a member of the Civil Censorship Detachment, which is responsible for censoring the publications which appear in Japan. The corporal is a statistician and draftsman, making charts, graphs and maps for his department.

Corporal Orndorff graduated from Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown, in June 1946.

He began his military career at Ft. George G. Meade. Basic training followed at Camp Polk, La. On completion of his training, he traveled to Fort Lawton, Wash., where he was processed for overseas duty and from where he embarked for Japan. He is a son of Mrs. Annie C. Orndorff.

SEEK TO CURB TRAVEL HOURS FOR STUDENTS

The executive committee of the Upper Adams joint school district Friday evening, declaring that the success of the jointure "will stand or fall on the effectiveness of our transportation system," asked the transportation committee to attempt to set up a system by which youngsters will have no more than one-half hour of travel to reach school.

Luther Lady, Biglerville R. 2, Butler township director who heads the transportation committee made up of two members from each of the six boards in the jointure, reported that the committee had already reduced the travel time to three-quarters of an hour at the longest.

Seek Fast Service

Members of the executive committee then brought up the question of how to lower that maximum time and added "we must not only consider the length of time needed to travel to and from school, but the time that the youngsters must stay at the school, prior to and after school hours. Even though a youngster may have to ride for only 15 minutes on a bus, that short trip will mean little if he has to arrive at the school an hour ahead of time and leave an hour after school is closed."

In some districts last year some youngsters had to leave for school an hour or more before school started and were picked up at the school a half-hour or more after school closed, members of the executive committee pointed out.

Mr. Lady reported that all of the larger buses used last year in transporting children in the districts united in the jointure will be used, but that three smaller buses used last year which were operating under a waiver from the state, which probably will not be renewed this year, will probably be dropped.

May Buy Bus

To replace some of the smaller buses the executive committee recommended that the joint board purchase its own bus which would be available at all times for such things as transportation of the band, athletic teams, and moving of children from one center to another as may be needed for various special events.

The members pointed out that the purchase of a bus by the joint district would not work a hardship on either present bus operators or on the taxpayer. The state reimbursement now provides for payment of 10 percent of the purchase cost of the state each year for ten years in addition to reimbursement for use of the bus. It would not be used to

COURT ORDERS MEDICAL TESTS FOR VETERANS

Two World War II veterans who appeared before Adams county court this morning for sentence were ordered held by the court for a month in order that medical examinations may be made to determine whether they need hospitalization or prison sentences.

Earl Clair Foulk, Seven Stars, charged with open lewdness, and Floyd Miller, Jr., Carlisle street, charged with burglarizing the American Legion home here, were the two veterans the court ordered examined further.

Foulk told the court this morning that he had been approaching women since his release from service. He said that he did not want to approach them but could not control himself.

Miller said he had nothing to say when the court asked him why he had stolen money from the Legion post. The court, noting that Miller had "been in other trouble" since his release from service, also ordered him to be held for sentence next month.

Sentenced For Contempt

Norman Rosenberger, near Fairfield, who had entered a plea of nolle contendere to a charge of pointing a gun, was sentenced to three months imprisonment dating from May 27, the day of his incarceration, and was ordered to pay the costs. He was immediately placed on parole for one year.

Donald W. Bowers, Littlestown R. D., who appeared before the court for being behind in his payments to his wife, Ida L. Bowers, and three children on charge of desertion and non-support, was sentenced to 90 days for contempt of court.

A decree in divorce was granted to Bernice M. Mummert, Littlestown, from Charles B. Mummert, Littlestown. Cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person were charged.

A divorce action was started by Henry Edward Hutter against Lottie Alice Dayton Hutter. The charge is desertion.

FEWER BIRTHS, 5 MORE DEATHS

There were 50 births reported in Gettysburg during June, and 14 deaths, according to Ralph Gelselman, registrar of vital statistics. Of the births, 33 were males and 17 females.

The total for the area including Gettysburg, Cumberland and Straban townships was 52 births, a decrease from May of four, and 19 deaths, an increase of five. There were no births or deaths in Freedom and Highland townships during June.

Cumberland township had one male birth in June, three male deaths and one female death. In Straban township, there was one female and one male death.

Records for the first six months of the year show 352 births, as compared with 234 last year, and 102 deaths, compared with 79 deaths for January through June, 1946.

In Gettysburg, there were 113 male and 112 female births in the first six months last year, and 32 male and 26 female deaths.

Bail Posted In Non-Support Case

Raymond Rosenberry, Seven Stars, has been charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore with non-support, on complaint of his wife, Mrs. Olive Rosenberry. He posted bail Friday night to appear before the county court today.

Merle Gulden, East Middle street, paid a fine of $10 and costs before Squire Baschore on a charge of driving without an operator's license, laid by borough police Friday.

Melvin Kump, Orrtanna R. D., was released on bail Friday night to appear for a hearing Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock before Squire Baschore, on a serious charge.

Final Rites Held For Raymond Kuhn

Funeral services for Raymond G. Kuhn, 37, Biglerville, who died at his home Sunday evening of coronary thrombosis after having been stricken while umpiring a baseball game at Benderville, were held Thursday morning with a requiem high mass at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church here following services at the home in Biglerville. The mass was sung by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of the church. Interment was made in the Biglerville cemetery.

The pallbearers included George Eckenrode, Ralph Stoner, Lester Warner, Herman Warner, Harry Heller and Wayne Asper.

RED BLOC SETUP FORCED AGAINST WILL OF PEOPLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Now that the Russian "bloc" of satellite nations in eastern Europe has been designated clearly we shall find it illuminating if we pause to devote a bit of thought to the meaning of the term "bloc."

A bloc of nations, in its generally accepted sense, is a group which has willingly combined to achieve some objective of common interest. Membership in the bloc is voluntary.

Now in examining the Russian bloc we find an interesting deviation from the ordinary definition. The element of willingness is lacking in much, if not all, of this association, that is, willingness on the part of the people as a whole in the various nations. For example, Hungary, Romania and Poland were among countries Communized over protest by the United States and Britain that strong-arm methods were being employed so the will of the general public was being smothered.

Reds Fight Greeks

The most recent demonstration—and it has drawn shocked expressions from the Western world—is Czechoslovakia's withdrawal from the Paris economic conference on orders from Moscow. And in passing we can't overlook that Greek troops have been fighting a hot battle near the Albanian frontier against Red guerrilla forces which Greece charges are supported by her Communist neighbors and are aiming to establish a Communist state. A majority report of the United Nations Balkan commission recently upheld the charge that Communist Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria were aiding the Red rebellion against the Athens government.

So the Russian bloc is an unwilling and unhappy one. The mere fact that a Communist government may be in control of a country doesn't necessarily mean that it speaks for the population as a whole. It means that the opponents of the government are, for the time being, either afraid to protest or are unable to register a useful opposition.

Moscow had several reasons for creating this bloc. One was to spread Communism. Another was to increase the political and economic prestige of the Soviet Union. A third, and very important one, was to extend its sphere of influence westward for military security.

SIXTY MILLION WERE WORKING DURING JUNE

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The administration today put aside fears of a mid-1947 business setback to study instead the question whether the nation's high-rising economy is headed for an inflationary crack-up.

Instead of the mild "dip" which most government economists once predicted after July 1, many now forecast a new and higher plateau of prices in August and September.

Sixty million jobs yesterday became a reality instead of the title of a book by Henry A. Wallace. The census bureau reported that 60,055,000 civilians were working in June, an all time high for peace or war.

This "drove the last nail in the coffin" of the much discussed summer slump, some of the economists say. Actually, the working force exceeds Wallace's "full employment" goal, for he included men in military service. If these are added, today's total is 61,453,000.

Oppose Price Boosts

The president's council of economic advisers, which yesterday gave Mr. Truman and the Cabinet the facts, figures and forecasts on the problems of prosperity, is described as "relaxing its resistance to the inflationary mood."

At this moment, one official close to the council reported privately, the advisers feel it would be "unfortunate and unjustified" if sizable price increases are slapped on steel and consumer goods made from steel as a result of the wage increase won by John L. Lewis' coal miners.

Neither should the coal settlement set off a general demand for another round of wage boosts, the council believes, because the miners' $1.20 daily wage increase is not much bigger than the 15-cent hourly pattern set in other industries in the spring.

RECORD BUILDING

Philadelphia, July 12 (AP)—The Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society of Omaha, Neb., has purchased the Philadelphia Record building for $140,000. The Securities and Exchange Commission yesterday approved payment of a real estate brokerage fee of $37,000 to Albert M. Greenfield and Co., which acted for the Bankers Securities Corp., owners of the property, in negotiating the sale. The Record suspended publication February 1 and was sold to the Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia.

Meningitis Case Second In County

Frederick M. Shealer, 22, Hunters-town road, who was taken to the Warner hospital seriously ill Saturday with what was later diagnosed and reported to State Sanitarian William I. Shields as cerebrospinal meningitis, is not the first such case reported in Adams county this year. Mr. Shields said today.

According to the state officer, Patricia E. Baker, 18 months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baker, Gettysburg R. 3, was stricken with meningitis on April 30. She was taken to the Warner hospital, returned to her home a month later, suffered a relapse, and was then taken to the Harrisburg hospital.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Witzelman, Gettysburg R. 2, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital this morning.

DEATH

Harvey F. Shorb

Harvey F. Shorb, 69, died at his home in Hanover, Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock, after an illness of five months. He was the son of the late Nathaniel and Savilla (Utz) Shorb. Mr. Shorb was the secretary of the Moose for 39 years. He also was a member of the Moose, the Brotherhood of America and the Mystic Chain.

A number of years ago Mr. Shorb conducted a bicycle store on High street, Hanover, and later opened and operated for a while a service station on the Baltimore pike just beyond Parkville.

Surviving are his wife, the former Naomi Leese, seven daughters, Mrs. Goldie Staub, Hanover; Mrs. Monroe Bringman, Hanover R. D. 3; Mrs. Melvin Good, Hanover; Mrs. Russell Madara, Middletown; Mrs. John Krouse, Baltimore; Mrs. Donald Kuhn, Cashtown; and Mrs. Gerald Hildebrand, York; three sons, Almond, Hanover; John A. Littlestown; Kenneth, Taneytown; 17 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and one step-sister, Mrs. John Garrett, Marburg.

Funeral services Sunday at 2 p. m. in the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Hanover. The Rev. Dr. M. J. Roth will officiate. Interment in Rest Haven cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the funeral home.

CUT WHISKERS IN TOWN SQUARE

Waynesboro, Pa., July 12 (AP)

Hair clippers and razors were sharpened for extra heavy duty here today as Waynesboro prepared for the largest mass shave in its history.

The Waynesboro Whiskers club of 300 members, which has been growing beards since early February in honor of the town's week-long 150th anniversary celebration, ending today, will de-whisker itself today.

The bearded men, deciding to make their tonsorial operations a public ceremony, have erected barber chairs in the town square and will be shorn of their shaggy outgrowths by wives, sweethearts, and in some cases, just plain barbers.

Spending long months meticulously pruning and shaping their outgrowths, the men have developed a prolific and impressive assortment of styles, ranging from the scholarly Van Dyke, and the villainous handlebar mustache, to the sprightly goatee.

The Whiskers club, disbanding today with mass shave, started out as a good-natured anniversary project, but wound up by making this community one of the most bewhiskered towns in the nation.

This week, during the anniversary celebration, nearly every able male sported some manner of whisker adornment.

FINE TRESPASSER

Ervin Smith, Hanover R. D. 3, was charged with trespassing on railroad property in an information laid by Milton R. Tipton, Western Maryland railway detective, before Justice of the Peace John H. Base, Gettysburg Friday morning. The violation allegedly occurred in Conewago township on July 8. Smith entered a plea of guilty, paid a fine of $1 and costs.

Yellowing leaves on azaleas are often a symptom of lack of iron. Lack of phosphorus will show up in slow growth and in dull green leaves that turn dark and drop off. Nitrogen-starved azaleas have a ragged, uneven appearance.

OPERATION OF FASCISM TOLD IN NEW BOOK

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Very shortly the government will publish, for sale to the public, a booklet called "Fascism in Action."

This study in dictatorship—how it works and how it gets that way—was prepared by a special staff of the library of Congress.

Rep. Wright Patman, Texas Democrat, asked that it be done. Before it could be printed for the public the House had to approve.

This it finally did after much delay and fiery debate because some Congressmen said it was a waste of money.

The government printer will announce the price of it, which won't be much, when it's printed. This writer has gone through original copies. It is worth the time of anyone who wants to understand Fascism in action.

Patman wanted it made public as a companion piece to "Communism in Action," another booklet which the House ordered printed last year. This, too, was prepared by the special Congressional library staff. So far more than 400,000 copies of it have been sold.

Neither booklet deals with any evidence of Communism or Fascism which have appeared in this country.

One sticks to Communism in Russia. The other concentrates on Fascism in Germany, Japan, Italy and Spain.

The conclusion of the long study on Fascism is, roughly, that Fascism means these things:

1. A dictator runs a Fascist government. He's supported by a single political party and a special class. The state, for its own so-called good, keeps everyone under its thumb.

2. Freedom, in the Democratic sense understood in this country, does not exist. An individual's life means little. It's full of duties and obligations to the state.

3. Religion is attacked if it suggests obedience to anyone else before the state, or if it emphasizes the importance and dignity of the individual.

4. An individual's leisure time is carefully supervised because the state wants to control his waking thoughts and actions.

5. Education and thinking are controlled to make the masses think and do what the dictator wants.

Empire Builders

6. Foreign policies are aggressive, or warlike. Fascism, looking for more living room for its people, seeks to build an empire.

7. To suit its own purposes, the dictatorship directs banking and private investment.

8. The dictatorship controls foreign trade of its people to suit its own ends.

9. Labor is so controlled that free collective bargaining and self-government by labor organizations are abolished. In short: free unions are smashed.

10. Farming is developed intensively so the population can be fed with its own products. Which means: to be self-sufficient.

11. Transportation, besides carrying goods and passengers, is built up to ease unemployment and as a preparation for war.

12. Fascism goes in for big arms programs. This tends to raise living standards. But no one knows how long that could last since no big Fascist state has lasted long enough to show it.

13. Big business and big industrialists are favored and strengthened. Enough private profit is permitted to let the special ruling class get rich.

Improved insecticides may lead to production of even greater potato crops.

Bandit Suspect Slain In Bus

New York city police stand over the body of a bandit suspect slain in a bus near 42nd street and the Avenue of the Americas during a gun battle with a patrolman. Policeman (right rear) holds gun (arrow) which police say they found on the slain man. The man had in his possession a disabled veteran's card and a Florida auto driver's license bearing the name of Joe N. Fernandez of Tampa.

Upper Communities

CHM CLUB HOLDS MEETING FRIDAY

Members of the CHM club met Friday evening at the Blue Ribbon orchards of the company, later going to the Biglerville plant. The meeting was planned for a complete study of the growing and processing of cherries.

At the orchards growing problems and parasite control methods were discussed with Glenn Slaybaugh, farm supervisor. Freemont Kuntz, field man, gave a demonstration of how tomato plants are sprayed, using a large spray unit designed chiefly for tomato spraying.

At the Biglerville plant members were guided through the cherry processing plant while canning was in operation.

The next meeting will be in the form of a picnic with ladies as special guests.

Mrs. Peter Larsen, Staten Island, N. Y., concluded a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Rice, Jr., Biglerville, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Group, Biglerville, visited Mrs. Group's father, Wilmer Lupp, at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, today.

Mrs. John R. McNitt, Washington, D. C., is spending the week-end with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Hewetson, Biglerville.

Miss Mary Kluck, Aspers; Miss Helen Guise, Dillsburg; Nelson Rick-rude, Lemoyne, and Marlin Group, Idaville, are on a week-end motor trip over the Sky-line drive. They will be guests at Harrisburg, Va., of Miss Juanita Bruce, a student at Virginia State Teachers' college.

Mrs. Earl Pitzer, Aspers; Miss Ellen Naugle and Mrs. Wilmer Bream, Biglerville, and Mrs. C. P. Conarty, Mt. Holly Springs, attended the sesquicentennial celebration at Waynesboro, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Weigle, Biglerville, have returned from a trip to Ocean City and Wenonah, N. J.

Mrs. Betty Neidigh, Los Angeles, Calif., has concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rice, Biglerville R. D.

Guinn Uner, Biglerville, is spending the week-end with Donald Nary, a student at Temple university, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, Biglerville, have returned from a vacation spent at Ocean City, N. J.

Mrs. O. A. Nary, Miss Jean Thomas, Mrs. Ernest Smith and Miss Marian Thomas, Biglerville, attended the sesquicentennial celebration in Waynesboro Thursday.

The meeting of the L.L.L. club which was to have been held Friday evening at the B. G. Walter cottage at Pine Grove Furnace was postponed indefinitely.

Alex Bell Named Delone High Coach

Alex Bell, Santa Monica, Calif., a former star football and baseball player at Villanova college, today accepted a position as a full time coach at Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown, for two years. It was announced by the Rev. Fr. Cyril Allwein. As a member of the faculty he will teach physical education.

Bell graduated from New Kensington high school in 1934 and from Villanova college in 1938. At Villanova he played on the football team for three years and varsity baseball. He played intra-mural basketball.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Crist, 2 Elm street, announce the birth of a daughter this morning at the Warner hospital.

Increase Price Of Coal, Steel

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—The wage raises won by the nation's coal miners began to hit the consumer's pocketbooks today as most of 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers returned to soft coal pits with full production expected sometime next week.

Between 250,000 and 300,000 miners were at work by week's end, scattered field reports indicated. Bearing out operators' predictions that higher prices would result from the fat new union contract, the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., world's largest commercial producer, announced increased rates effective today.

The firm did not announce a definite price schedule pending a month-long study of production results under the miners' shorter week at $1.20 daily higher pay.

However, other coal sources reported price increases of 73 to 75 cents a ton were in prospect with strip-mined coal to be boosted 40 to 50 cents a ton.

Pilot Succumbs Landing Airplane

Meadville, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Nearly a score of witnesses watched a small airplane come into Port Meadville for an apparently perfect landing last night, then saw it skid to a stop as its pilot died from what Coroner Luther J. King said was a heart attack.

King identified the victim as Harold Alfred Lindstrom, 51, of Chicago. He said Lindstrom had been vacationing at nearby Andover (Ohio) and had been a frequent visitor at the airport where he took delivery of the second-hand plane only a few hours before he died.

"He just happened to be flying when it (the heart attack) occurred," King said in announcing he is issuing a verdict that death resulted from natural causes.

The plane was not badly damaged and the only discernible injury which Lindstrom suffered was a cut lip, King said.

New Oxford Lions To Hold Carnival

The New Oxford Lions club and their ladies held a spring chicken dinner at Helen's Place, near East Berlin, on Wednesday evening. Miss Hilda Kilmefelter entertained with a number of accordion selections.

H. Alvin Jones, a former president of the club, installed the recently elected officers and presented a past-president's and a past-secretary's pin to R. H. Smith and to Ivan R. Mechtly, respectively.

With the newly installed president, Clyde O. Garber, in the chair, Frank Higinbotham reported for the carnival committee. The proposals made in this report were discussed and approved. The club set the dates of September 9 to 13 inclusive as Lion Carnival Week in New Oxford.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Old Mill inn.

Fail To Settle Shipyard Strike

New York, July 12 (AP)—H. Ross Colwell, regional director of the U. S. Conciliation Service, said yesterday that government efforts to settle the strike of CIO shipyard workers against the Bethlehem Steel company had failed again.

There was "no substantial change in the respective positions of the parties" Colwell announced after a meeting of more than two hours between representatives of the company and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers.

The union estimates that the 17-day-old strike has idled 73,000 workers, including 67,000 of its members. Nine Bethlehem plants are among those struck, and the union and government conciliators view the Bethlehem negotiations as the key to ending the walkout. They have said they expected other struck companies to follow any wage pattern developed from the Bethlehem negotiations.

A wage increase of 13 cents an hour and other contract improvements are sought by the union.

40,000 Will See Arlington Futurity

Chicago, July 12 (AP)—A throng of 40,000 turf patrons turned out today for the 18th running of the Arlington Futurity which carried a record gross value of $81,800 with a purse of $66,900 going to the winner.

Seventeen juvenile thoroughbreds were named for the six-furlong stakes, with the flashy field of 2-year-olds topped by Norman W. Church's May Reward and Joseph A. Goodwin's Papa Redbird.

ALTER COUNTY LOOP STANDING BY DECISIONS

Bendersville holds first place in the first half race of the Adams County Baseball league by a full game margin as the result of action taken at a meeting of league officials in the American Legion home here Friday evening.

Ortanna's protest of its game with Arendtsville at Ortanna on the afternoon of July 4th was upheld and the game awarded to Ortanna 2-1.

In the disputed contest Ortanna tabbed a run in the eighth inning to break a 1-1 deadlock but the runner was sent back to third base, apparently due to a ground rule. Arendtsville then went on to win 4-1 by scoring three runs in the top half of the tenth. At the league meeting it was decided the runner should have been allowed to score which would have resulted in a 2-1 win for Ortanna and the contest was awarded the home team by that score.

Adjust Records

A queer twist in the schedule lineup according to league rules resulted in another change in the official standings. According to the league program the first scheduled 14 games of each team constitutes the first half. Inasmuch as Bendersville's 14th scheduled game was played the morning of July 4, the afternoon tilt with Emmitsburg, won by the latter, counted as a setback for Bendersville in the second half although a win for the Marylanders in the first half.

Arrangements were made tentatively for playing several first half postponements next week but the date of only one was definitely set. Bendersville will play at Ortanna next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

President Roy Shanebrook presided at the meeting with all teams represented with the exception of Littlestown and New Oxford.

Corrected standings of the first and second half races are as follows:

First Half
	W	L	Pct.
Bendersville	9	3	.750
Hanover	9	5	.643
Arendtsville	8	5	.615
Ortanna	8	5	.615
Emmitsburg	7	6	.538
New Oxford	7	6	.538
Littlestown	6	6	.500
Fairfield	5	7	.417
McSherrystown	5	9	.357
Gettysburg	1	12	.077

Second Half
	W	L	Pct.
Arendtsville	1	0	1.000
Fairfield	1	0	1.000
McSherrystown	1	0	1.000
New Oxford	1	0	1.000
Ortanna	1	0	1.000
Emmitsburg	0	1	.000
Emmitsburg	0	1	.000
Hanover	0	1	.000
Littlestown	0	1	.000
Bendersville	0	2	.000

Mulligan Injured In Sliding Home

(By The Associated Press) The Eastern league pitching debut of Dick Mulligan, former Major league pitcher, was a success today, but the erstwhile Boston Brave and Philadelphia Phil wasn't on hand for the finish of the game.

Mulligan was the winning pitcher as the Hartford Chiefs defeated the Williamsport Tigers, 8 to 5, at Hartford last night. However, he aggravated an old leg injury in sliding home in the sixth inning and had to be relieved in the next frame.

The victory gave the Chiefs the series' two games to one.

The Second-place Albany Senators sliced a game off the lead of the front-running Utica Blue Sox by defeating the Elmira Pioneers at Albany, 4 to 1, while the Blue Sox were being nosed out by the Scranton Miners, 7 to 6, in 13 innings at Utica.

The Wilkes-Barre Barons came from behind at Binghamton to trounce the Triplets, 10 to 6.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press) Batting, Billy Cox, Pirates — Clouted four hits, three singles and a double, in Pittsburgh's 7-2 romp over Phillies.

Pitching, Vic Lombardi, Dodgers — Hurled first complete game of season, shutting out Chicago with four hits, 5-0.

On Trust Favored In Hollywood Derby

Inglewood, Calif., July 12 (AP)—On Trust, California's colt of the year, dominated a field of 10 three-year-olds named to race today in the seventh running of the $50,000 Hollywood Derby before a throng of 40,000 or more at Hollywood Park.

Turf experts, noting several noteworthy absentees from the entry ranks, tabbed five as possible challengers to the highly favored On Trust, and the four others as outsiders with little or no business in the race—unless one wins, of course.

CAUGHT NAPPING: LOST

Baltimore, July 12 (AP)—Police today posted a $5 reward for the return of Mickey, the absent-minded cat. For two years, Mickey's cat naps have been taken on the running board of a patrol wagon at Central police station. The snoozing tomat was last seen three days ago, riding away on the running board of a gas and electric truck.

Stymie And Assault To Meet At Jamaica

New York, July 12 (AP)—Stymie and Assault, the two top money-winning horses of the turf, meet again today in the mile and three-sixteenth $50,000-added Butler handicap at Jamaica racetrack.

The King ranch's Assault, currently in second place with earnings of $576,669 to Stymie's $595,510, toted topweight of 135 pounds to Stymie's 126, but nevertheless was favored to regain the No. 1 rank in the money-winning list. The bold venture four-year-old is undefeated in his last seven starts and has whipped Mrs. E. D. Jacob's Stymie every time they have met since last fall's Pimlico special at Baltimore. Their last meeting was in the mile and one-quarter Brooklyn handicap June 21 at Aqueduct when Assault won by three lengths.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 12 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio 11, nephew of the Yankee clouter, is playing American Legion baseball for Galileo post of San Francisco. At the last report he was hitting .465 but he wasn't known as much for that as far his habit of stealing four or five bases a game. That's more than Uncle Joe can do. Ezzard Charles plans to build his weight up from the normal 173 pounds to about 180 for his venture into heavyweight circles—which still won't make him big enough to fight Joe Louis. Maurice (Rocky) Richard, who seldom gets hurt in a rough hockey game, busted his nose recently when he ran into the stands chasing a foul ball while playing baseball. Although Auburn's track team produced three Southeastern conference champions this spring, it was not represented in the National Collegiate A. A. championships. Reason: lack of funds.

IN A STATE

The Class "D" North Atlantic league has four clubs in Pennsylvania, which has a Sunday baseball curfew, and four in New York state, which doesn't. . . . maybe it isn't surprising that an ump called a game in Kingston, N. Y., recently because he remembered a law that teams couldn't start an inning after 6:50 p.m. . . . the only thing that puzzles prexy Ernie Landgraf is how the ump found his way to the right park in the first place.

One Minute Sports Page

In the first time in years, the national junior tennis championships won't be ruled by Californians this summer. Since Herbie Flam graduated to senior ranks, the leading players are Buddy Behrens of Florida, Sid Schwartz of New York, Gil Bogley of Washington, D. C., Dick Mouldous of Louisiana and Alex Hetzeck of Michigan. . . . although Jack Banta, the Montreal Royals' strikeout sensation "arrived" only this year as a big league prospect, his record shows he whiffed 105 batsmen in 26 games at Olean, N. Y., in 1944. . . . Blair Cherry, Texas grid coach, maintains that 1947 quarterbacks will have to be smart enough to switch plays completely after they come out of the huddle and see the defensive setups.

New York, July 12 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have come east to hammer away at the three clubs that are ahead of them in the National league race and Manager Eddie Dyer, for one, isn't surprised that they're within shooting distance of the top after the miserable start they got this spring. . . . "On our first eastern trip," says Eddie, "Stan Musial was sick with appendicitis; Terry Moore was out of the lineup and so was Erv Dusak. With fellows like that out, we couldn't play good ball. Now they're all in there. It isn't so much that new players we've got since then helping us as the old ones playing their game." . . . The Card manager checked himself to think things over a bit as he saw Ducky Medwick striding out to take hitting practice. . . . "That fellow has been a lot of help," he admitted. "He gives me another right-hand hitter to put in there against lefties—and he's a great competitor."

NO STUDENTS

Al Ennis, genial general manager of the Philadelphia Eagles, submits this preliminary report on his club's training season: "We will go to camp with approximately 57 men, sound in wind and limb and guaranteed to be graduated minima-cum laude from various institutions of higher learning." . . . Educationally, that seems to put the Eagles ahead.

SPORTSPOURRI

Bruce Drake, Oklahoma U. golf and basketball coach, figures the N.C.A.A. will have to adopt some sort of sectional golf preliminary in fairness to the good players in the big championship. . . . "Why should a team be limited to six players if it has more good ones in order to make room for some boys who aren't so good?" Bruce asks. Waite Hoyt, the Cincinnati sportscaster, earns almost twice as much as he did in his best years as a major league pitcher. Who said actions speak louder than words?

WEAK END ITEMS

The Los Angeles Rams plan to use Ohio State's Les Horvath, 1944 Heisman trophy winner, as a part-time quarterback and part-time halfback.

BLACKWELL HAS CHANCE AT NEW PITCHING MARK

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer) Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati is taking dead aim on a place among the National league's modern day pitching greats with a 13-game win streak that has been surpassed by only four hurlers in the older circuit since 1900.

The all-time record is 19 in a row held jointly by Rube Marquard in 1912 and Tim Lincecum in 1888, both of the New York Nationals. Carl Hubbell sewed together a string of 16 in 1936 for the New York Giants.

Even a 30-game winning season is not beyond the reach of Blackwell, whose Cincinnati Reds have not yet played half of their 154 games. The last National to hit the 30 mark was Dizzy Dean of the St. Louis Gas House gang in 1934.

"Blacky" was not up to his usual form in last night's 10-6 decision over Boston and was nipped for 11 hits. However it was his ninth straight complete game since June 1 when he was lifted for a pinch hitter at the Polo grounds.

Giants Stop Cards Brooklyn enjoyed Blackwell's success at long range, having shut out Chicago, 5-0, before the Boston reds were in. The Braves' loss and Dodger victory upped their National league lead to a cozy three full games. Vic Lombardi, hurling his first complete game of the year, allowed only four hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals' march through the east was halted by the New York Giants who were beaten 4-3 on homers by Del Rice and Ron Northey in the first game of a doubleheader. The Giants overcame a five-run Cardinal first inning with eight in their half and went on to subdue the Red Birds 17-9 in a game mercifully halted by darkness in the eighth. Dave Koslo, who started the first, won the second on relief and Al Brazle, who started the opener for the Birds, took the closing loss.

Billy Cox's four hits highlighted the Pittsburgh Pirates' 7-2 night game romp over the Phillies for Ernie Bonham's seventh success. Ben Chapman had a slight mixup in his batting order and had to start Schoolboy Rowe against one man when he wanted to use Charley Schanz.

Ten In Row For Yanks

The New York Yankees stretched their win streak to 10, the longest in the majors this season, by subduing St. Louis, 3-1. Allie Reynolds, who hadn't won away from the friendly confines of the Yankee Stadium since April 18, finally beat his road jinx with the help of Johnny Lindell's hitting. Ellis Kinder was a tough luck loser of a three-hitter in the twilight game witnessed by only 2,171 Sportsman's park fans.

As Detroit and Boston split two, the Yanks' lead now measures nine games over both the Tigers and Red Sox. Tex Hughson tamed Detroit in the opener, 4-3, decisioning Dizzy Trout, but Stubby Overmire squared matters with a four-hit shutout 3-0, to hand Denny Galehouse his first Boston setback.

The Philadelphia Athletics bounced back from their no-hit, no-run loss to Cleveland's Don Black and clubbed out a 4-2 margin over the Tribe for Phil Marchildon's ninth victory.

Washington climbed into sixth place over Chicago by topping the White Sox, 4-3, in a Comiskey park night game.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Steve Belloise, 159½, New York, TKO'd George Abrams, 161, New York, 5.

Baltimore—Lee Q. Murray, 205, South Norwalk, Conn., knocked out Odell Riley, 191, Chicago, 3.

North Adams, Mass.—Willie Pep, 130, Hartford, Conn., knocked out Jean Barriere, 132, Montreal, 4. (Non-Title).

Chicago—Jerome Frazier, 151½, New York, TKO'd Jimm Sherrer, 150, Milwaukee, 7.

New York (Long Island Stadium)—Aldo Minelli, 138½, Milan, Italy, outpointed Dom Amoroso, 135, Jersey City, 8.

Les never has played quarter under the "T." . . . Disagreeing with a Florida jurist who held that a race horse is not a "dangerous instrumentality," the Miami Herald's Jimmy Burns suggests: "Maybe Judge Wiseheart never tried to pick a horse like Ripsey to win the Kentucky Derby."

Bud Ward Ready To Avenge Defeat

Des Moines, Ia., July 12 (AP)—When Frank Stranahan planes in tomorrow night for the western amateur golf tournament he'll find Marvin (Bud) Ward, his U. S. Walker cup teammate, waiting and ready.

The curly-haired, 34-year-old Ward will be waiting to avenge a narrow defeat in the 1946 western final. There's little doubt that he's ready.

The Spokane ace, who lost to the husky Toledo, O., star in a 38-hole sizzler at Duluth, Minn., a year ago, has been here several days getting set for what he hopes will be another shot at Frankie.

Bud has toured the hilly 6,442-yard Wakonda layout three times and yesterday he banged out a three-under par 69.

Stranahan and Ted Bishop of Natick, Mass., both are due here by plane tomorrow night and will go into the first half of the 36-hole qualifying test without benefit of practice sessions.

There will be 18 holes of qualifying play Monday and Tuesday with the 64 low shooters graduating to match play Wednesday.

NEW YORK WILL NOT RECOGNIZE GRAZIANO WINS

By SID FEDER

New York, July 12 (AP)—The picture of New York "seceding" from the union—as far as the world middleweight championship is concerned—and declaring the crown vacant popped up today as a possibility if rock-a-bye Rocky Graziano takes Tony Zale's title away in Chicago next Wednesday.

The New York State Athletic commission definitely will not give back to the better from New York's lower east side the license that was taken away from him last January because he failed to report a bribe offer of $100,000 that he insisted he thought was "a gag."

Commission Chairman Eddie Egan made Graziano's standing plain today in talking about the possibilities from Wednesday's wallop party. Then, getting around to what would happen if Graziano should win the middleweight bauble, Egan said the commission hasn't gone into this little matter yet, but that it was possible the fistic fathers would just say there isn't any camp at all.

Revoked License

"Let's just theorize about it," Egan explained. "If Graziano wins, we could do one of three things—recognize him, continue to recognize Zale or just declare the title vacant. "We revoked Graziano's license last January, so he is out of our control and jurisdiction, and therefore we couldn't recognize him. We could hardly recognize Zale, that would be like an ostrich burying his head in the sand. We could declare the title open."

"Of course, all this is just theorizing now, because I have to meet with my two fellow commissioners about it."

"Up to now, the fight hasn't been fought, so we haven't discussed it. After the bout Wednesday we'll meet and decide our course of action, probably at our regular weekly meeting next Friday."

About the Graziano situation, though, Egan was firm, although he gave you the impression that Rocky might possibly get his license back, say, between October and the first of next year.

Oil City Takes League Leadership

(By The Associated Press)

The Oil City Refiners defeated the Niagara Falls Frontiers 9-1 last night to break a tie with the Vandergrift Pioneers for first place in the league. Vandergrift lost 6-5 to the Uniontown Coal Barons.

Garrison pitched a five-hitter for the Refiners and missed a shutout only when a single, a walk, a passed ball and an infield out combined to provide a Niagara tally.

Uniontown came from behind in the ninth inning with a two-run rally based on three singles and a two-base error. Bill Hudasek got a homer and two singles for the Barons.

The Butler Yankees took two games from the Johnstown Johnnies, 4-2 and 7-5 to climb from the cellar into seventh place.

Erie at Youngstown, rained out, was made part of a doubleheader today.

CUBAN LEAGUE IS RECOGNIZED

Columbus, O., July 12 (AP)—Cuba's four-team winter baseball league today won its long battle for recognition by organized baseball.

The circuit was sanctioned as an unclassified affiliate of the national association of professional baseball leagues during a meeting of President George M. Trautman and the association's executive committee with Cuban Baseball officials last Tuesday at Chicago. Formal announcement was held up, Trautman's office said, until all parties could return to their homes.

Trautman announced the agreement included approval by American minor leagues of a plan to furnish 32 American players of not more than four years experience, with the proviso that they would return to their U. S. teams after March 1.

Consider Reinstatements The minor league executive committee also agreed, Trautman said, to "favorably consider" applications of 12 suspended Cuban players for reinstatement to the association's eligible list.

Today's Talk

THE QUIET HOUR

I wonder how many people can say that they have at least one quiet hour out of each 24—all to themselves—for rest, relaxation, and meditation? Just think what that would mean in increased health, peace of mind, and growth of soul!

One quiet hour each day can change the entire complexion of that day—and perhaps of life itself! We are creatures of habit, and this habit of one quiet hour alone, with no outside distractions, might prove to most of us as one of the most valuable possible to acquire.

Too many people find it difficult to get along with themselves. This quiet hour habit opens up the opportunity for self-examination and self-companionship. We can really become our own best friend!

So long as we have faith in ourselves we cannot fail to attain a success that will give us at least a high sense of satisfaction. This quiet hour can always be like an interview, in which you learn new things about yourself, learn to be more tolerant toward others, and learn to joyously relax!

Most of us may find it difficult to arrange this quiet hour during the body of the day, but it can easily be set aside for the last hour—the hour before the sleep of night. No better time could be given over, for it is highly essential that we always go to our slumber with a quiet mind. That means the body will perform its functions of repair and re-conditioning in a natural and efficient manner.

I keep a quiet hour group of books about me in my bedroom, to give me good night thoughts—books that soothe the mind, yet which inspire it. Happy thoughts surpass all sleeping powders—and they never fail to give peace and rest. Accumulate them during the day for your quiet hour at the close of your day.

Another great gain to be achieved at this quiet hour would be that of purging our minds of all hate, prejudice, and intolerance. A time to repeat over and over again the Golden Rule, and make it the cornerstone of our attitude toward others and the world.

The Poet of the People

AS WE ARE KNOWN

If they smile when we come
And they sigh when we go,
We are better than some
They just happen to know.

If they show they are glad
When we tap at the door,
When they're troubled and sad,
None who calls can mean more.

Perhaps at life's end
Here's the best we achieve;
To be hailed as a friend;
To be missed when we leave.

16 NATIONS IN EUROPE STUDY RECOVERY NEEDS

Paris, July 12 (AP)—Delegates of 16 nations began a conference today on European economic recovery with United States aid and were told that Britain and France would give the Marshall plan firm backing.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was elected president of the conference and immediately pledged in support of the plan the resources of the whole British commonwealth of nations—"insofar as we can influence it."

Earlier, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault in opening the meeting in the foreign ministry's grand dining hall said Britain and France would spare no effort to make the conference a success.

Russia and eight other eastern nations were not represented. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had declined to join Bevin and Bidault in sponsoring the parley, and the other countries, following Russia's lead, had turned down invitations to the affair.

To Aid All Europe

The conference started at 11:05 a. m. (5:05 a. m., Eastern Standard Time). France was seated at the head of the conference table.

"I am authorized to state for the British government," Bevin said, "that not only the resources of Britain but, insofar as we can influence it, the resources of the entire British commonwealth of nations will be thrown into the support of this effort."

He stressed that the conference was economic and not political.

"I emphasize again," he declared, "that this is a voluntary arrangement. We are attempting to organize the economic resources of the continent for the benefit of all Europe."

Bidault said the primary objective of the meeting would be to form an organization to determine Europe's resources and needs as a preliminary to requesting United States financial assistance. Secretary of State George C. Marshall in a Harvard university speech June 5 offered U. S. support of a common European reconstruction program.

"Remake Europe"

Bidault praised the initiative of the U. S. in offering financial aid for a joint reconstruction program and declared that England and France would spare no effort to make it a success.

In an early reference to the British-Soviet-French conference of foreign ministers here two weeks ago, Bidault denied that economic cooperation constituted a threat to national sovereignty—an objection voiced by Russian Foreign Minister Molotov at that time.

"The time has come to remake Europe," Bidault declared, "and this conference is not in any way directed against any state or group of states."

Model Airplane Contest To Open

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—The second annual State Championship Model Airplane Contest gets under way tomorrow at the New Kingston airport, four miles east of Carlisle. Contestants from all parts of the state have filed entry blanks at contest headquarters, with one group flying to the airport in a chartered plane and bringing along their models.

The winner of tomorrow's contest will represent Pennsylvania at the International Model Plane Contest at Detroit in August that is being sponsored by the Plymouth Motor Corporation of America.

The Detroit contest will be held at Selfridge Field and will be preceded by a banquet the night of August 16, open to all contestants and invited guests.

replace any presently existing state approved buses, it was said.

A budget authorizing expenditures of $172,153.30 and showing income of $172,414.60 was recommended by the finance committee, according to L. W. Kleinfelter, chairman of that committee. The recommendation was approved.

Early Tax Notices

No breakdown of the figures was immediately given pending a check with the state department to determine what items will appear on the budgets of the various districts and which will appear on the jointure budget.

No action was taken on a recommendation that the Brysonia school be closed and the children from that school be sent to Arendtsville. Members of the Menallen township board said they preferred to query patrons at Brysonia before acting. The transportation committee in suggesting that the school be closed pointed out that it would save one teacher's salary and give the youngsters the advantages of attending the larger center at Arendtsville.

Upper county taxpayers may receive their tax notices earlier than usual and be asked to pay their taxes at an earlier date than usual, due to a change in the state law, the board members learned.

Teacher Resigns

Because the state has changed the reimbursement period from August and February to October and April the boards may have to send out tax notices in June and collect in September in order to have sufficient funds to carry on through the year.

Riding with Russell

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
BY FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S. A. E.

The easy going motorist usually is the hardest to get started.

Hints Of Sticky Valves

Rough idling may or may not be due to sticky valves or the wrong gas mixture, but a less considered cause is a too advanced spark. Because there is so much to be gained by carrying the spark "high" many motorists enjoy a high degree of motor efficiency without realizing why the engine doesn't function well when idling. Often this results in a wild goose chase and a search for troubles that do not exist at all. Before jumping to the conclusion that the spark is a little too far advanced, however, always make a few simple checks such as seeing that the idling is fast enough and that there is no skipping in the medium speed range which would also indicate a sticky valve.

One For The Book

Our cars certainly have a way of fooling us, even when we think we have the upper hand. Let me add a bit of personal experience by way of proof.

When refilling the radiator I accidentally allowed the level to come too high. This meant that when the system heated and expansion took place the excess would go out the overflow. Since there is a pressure cap on my car's radiator there can be no escape of the excess coolant until pressure exceeds four pounds. So much for the setting.

Well, I drove along until the engine warmed up; then heard the system release. All this seemed logical enough until I stopped the car and observed the water leaking to the ground around the transmission instead of under the overflow pipe. Raising the hood I found one of the heater hoses leaking. Pressure had opened up a weak spot!

Picked Up En Route

Talked with a chap on a recent trip who was having trouble with sluggish acceleration when the throttle was partly open. When he pressed all the way down on the accelerator the pick-up seemed quite normal. Naturally he was puzzled.

A mechanic standing nearby overheard our conversation and suggested that this probably was due to too much acceleration pump action. He recommended cutting down on the length of the pump's stroke. This done, the owner gave the car a brief test and reported that everything was normal again.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"The thing that bothers us most in the repair business these days is what we call the 'repeat job.' This is the sort of work we have to do over again because there hasn't been time for a careful re-check. Owners are pressing us pretty hard."

"If we could just have time in which to go over the car by way of polishing we would catch those little things that are apt to ruin an otherwise good job unless checked in time. Some owners today don't even wait long enough to get a few instructions. Most motorists have never driven a completely overhauled engine, yet they drive off just as if they knew all the answers. One customer had a grand time showing off the power of the reconditioned brakes only to discover that because the drums had been cut thinner they warped all over again and had to be replaced."

Odd And Helpful

One of the things we have to watch out for these days is placing car parts, wiring and accessory controls too close together so that they interfere with each other's action. For some time this has been demonstrated on one make of car as a skip in the motor. Tracing the ignition you will find that when hot water heaters are installed on this car the low tension wire from coil to distributor touches one of the heater hoses. There is enough chafing here to wear down the insulation. Apparently enough metallic particles circulate through the cooling system to affect the ignition. Anyhow, whatever the explanation, merely taping the wire so that it can't rest on the hose serves to stop the skip.

Handy To Know

If hose clamps are too large for the new hoses you are installing just wrap some tire tape around the hose before attaching them. This makes for even pressure all around the hoses.

A lot of shimmy is due to wobbly wheels. This condition can be corrected by taking the wheels to a company that specializes in straightening them.

Does it surprise you to know that the longer the hood of a car the less aware you are of its speed?

The explanation lies in the fact that when you can't see the road directly ahead of the car you are less conscious of the way things are flying by. Your eyes are focused at more distant points and you do not have the same awareness of speed that goes with observing at closer range. It is the same reason you are completely unaware of the speed of a plane.

It is because of this mental quirk that safety engineers are very much in favor of rear-engined cars, even though they admit that in event of a collision the engine breaks loose, tears forward and may take the passengers with it. They feel that if you didn't have the long hood you would see more roadway directly in front of the car and not drive so fast. That would go a long way toward lessening the risk of any collision at all.

Have You Noticed

That even if you go back over the same route it never looks the same as it did the other way?

That the best time to gain mileage when traveling is at meal hours? Fewer cars are on the road at that time.

That it helps the gas station attendant avoid overfilling the tank to tell him about how much gas is needed? Your guide to the quantity of gas required is the odometer reading.

As I Figure It

From a mechanic I have a query that ought to interest anyone who has had the old engine reconditioned. He says he is puzzled because oil pressure invariably is lower immediately after the job than later when the car has gone 500 to 1,000 miles.

Let's figure it out. The reconditioned engine may be quite stiff. This heats the oil, breaks it down, causing lowered pressure. Later when the engine is broken in its temperature is normal and pressure is higher.

It's A Motor Question

Q. There is a most persistent squeak in the rear of my car. Sounds exactly like a dry spring shackle, but such possibilities have been thoroughly explored. I hope you will have some suggestions. H. N. McE.

A. You may find that the neck of the gas tank filler pipe is rubbing against the fender. Press a rubber strip between the two and your noise will probably vanish.

Q. What would make the car seem hotter this summer even though the engine's temperature seems to be the same? I do not drive any faster, but it certainly is more uncomfortable in the driving compartment. W. L. K.

A. I wonder if you have replaced the floor mat. Some of the new ones do not have as much insulation as the originals. Try some more insulation under the mat if there doesn't seem to be enough.

Q. Is there any good reason why an engine should not be filled above the so-called full mark on the dip stick? I should think any engine would run cooler if a bit overfilled.

J. W.

A. The theory of it sounds all right, but in practice the engine should not be overfilled. If there is too much oil there will be foaming due to the connecting rods whipping into the excess. Foamed oil doesn't circulate through the fine passages of the modern oiling system.

Q. Should a newly repainted car be waxed immediately, or should there be a period for the finish to set? W. W. R.

A. Where the body is finished with lacquer or sprayed enamel, wax it as soon as possible. In fact, some refinishers include waxing.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern Street, Hartford, Connecticut, and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

force was shot and fatally wounded by an assailant who seized the policeman's gun from his holster as McKenna ate an early breakfast in a diner Thursday.

Det. Lieut. Stephen Schmidt said 22-year old Alphonse Deublein of 6710 Madison street, Guttenberg, was being questioned about the shooting.

Deputy police chief Edward J. McEscala gave this version of the shooting:

McKenna was sitting at a counter in the Globe Restaurant, 417 38th street, eating breakfast at 4 a.m., during a shift-change rest from his duties as dispatcher at police headquarters, when a dispute broke out between a patron and the counter-terman in the restaurant.

The patron grabbed the policeman's gun from its holster, and, as McKenna attempted to retrieve it, fired five shots. Two struck the policeman and three others embedded themselves in the counter.

McKenna was taken to North

-and Ability to match

GIVE yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it. Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

TUCK AWAY PLenty! Roomy luggage compartments hold plenty — and high-lifting lids make it easy to get at any piece.

Letter to the Editor

In your Tuesday evening paper, I noticed the big headlines "Visitors to Gettysburg Criticize Town's Failure to Observe Anniversaries."

The Times is truly to be commended for this effort to bring before the Gettysburg public the most neglected asset the community has. I, for one, believe the Times could have found out lots more and had a better insight to the whole situation if they would have visited the Tourists Courts and got an opinion from their owners.

These people, almost 100%, feel obligated to take a personal interest in their guests and, as they have them from 1 day to 10 days, you can talk over many things and get the other fellow's view-point.

From where I am situated, my biggest complaint of course, comes from the Peace Light not burning at night after 8:00 p. m. Some of these people have traveled miles to see the light burn at night. Quite a few stay over to take a picture of it at night. They come after dark to find it out. Imagine their surprise and disappointment. I hear plenty about this.

Another gripe is the lack of signs to get a person in and around and through the town. I happen to have a gripe here myself. I have a large sign on the Carlisle road stating "Turn Right at Traffic Light," and one on the Harrisburg road stating "Straight Thru Light." These people trying to get to my place come out Lincoln avenue and there is no way of telling them the direction of the memorial. They continue on and finally end up at the railroad track on a dead end street. This, after a person has driven all day and maybe with a child or two, is pretty disgusting.

To correct this, I went to one of our Town Councilmen and explained all this to him and he immediately saw the bad part of it and asked for my suggestions. All I asked was permission to have a sign printed at my own expense with an arrow and reading "Peace Memorial" not "Peace Light Inn." When this was brought up at Council Meeting, one person remarked, "Why should we help to advertise this place?" I wasn't asking for this. I erected two large signs at considerable cost to direct these people here. It is evident they will get here, but why put them to all this inconvenience for the sake of one small sign?

There are some things mostly pertaining to my own place of business, but I think the average citizen fails to realize what it means to the town of Gettysburg to have a tourist leave the town with a kind thought in mind instead of a let-down feeling. Don't forget that every tourist dollar left in town benefits the whole town in general and it is a proven fact people like to come to Gettysburg and will continue to do so if the proper courtesy is shown them.

Yours truly,
Harvey A. Warner.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Bubb, and son, Bobby, with Miss Virginia Tischler, have returned to Philadelphia after spending a week with Mr. Bubb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Bubb.

William Anthony, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes L. Anthony, has returned via airplane to Duke General Hospital, Durham, N. C., where he is a medical aide, after a brief visit with his parents and brother, John.

A recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Denton Myers was his sister, Mrs. Robert Myers, Washington, D. C.

Walter D. Barnes, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Barnes, suffered a cracked bone in his right wrist while at work in a Hanover factory.

The Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg Catholic diocese, addressed the parishioners of Paradise Catholic church last Sunday when he expressed gratitude for their recent contributions toward the education of young men for the priesthood. Groups of these seminary students will come to the Paradise Rectory throughout the summer to spend their vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rohrbach and sons, John and Bobbie Lee, have returned from a motor trip to Fort Wayne, Ind., where they spent a week with Mrs. Rohrbach's brother, and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. David A. Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Zeigler are on a trip to New England and Canada, accompanying her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, who are on their wedding trip.

Harold R. Shetter, a student at West Chester State Teachers' college, spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter, where another guest was Miss Patricia McGough also a West Chester student.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Sell, Jr., and daughters, Lucy and Kandy Lou, were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Myers and daughter, Phyllis Jean.

Visiting among local friends during the week was Ray E. Mummet, near Dillsburg, formerly a well known baseball player, now disabled by the loss of his left arm in the European Theatre of War. He was accompanied here by Chester G. Wolf, York county assemblyman, Beavertown.

Chapter 14

John could not suppress a grin. "You ought to know, baby," he teased her.

Susan looked at him sharply and demanded in an angry voice, "Just what do you mean by that? You don't have to be insulting do you?" "No, I don't mean to be insulting. Matter of fact, I'm complimenting you on your skill."

"Then what do you mean?" "What I'm trying to say is that you ought to know how it's done. When you tell a whopper, you really make it stick. The tale you told the other night about being married and having a houseful of kids was a lulu. And you had everybody believing it—even Steve Gellis, who may be a louse but is certainly no fool."

"Oh, you would bring that up, wouldn't you?" Susan's anger had given way to distress. She looked at John accusingly. "You know very well that I was pushed into that. I certainly couldn't sit there like a dope, with that dreadful Bella Gaines egging me on. What was I supposed to do—take it? Well, I just couldn't."

"Of course you couldn't—more power to you, Susie."

"Oh, I've been mortified to death ever since. I could hardly look Steve Gellis in the face the next morning. I suppose that was why I played such a terrible game of tennis."

"But you did a pretty swell job on that story, Susie, my love. Steve still halfway believes it. If you hadn't been so adamant about having four kids, he'd have swallowed the whole thing. He probably would have given you a raise on the strength of it. Two kids would have been okay. But four kids—holy cow!—you forget there's a time element involved."

"I—I never thought of that," Susan stammered. "I—I—"

"Well, I did," said John. "I could have throttled you. I tried to tip you off that you had only two, but you got stubborn and raised the ante to four. Two children, I figured, would be the greatest of plenty for a girl of your age. Why the heck did you have to say four?"

Susan was angry again. Her cheeks were scarlet and she exclaimed, a little nonsensically, "That's my business. If I chose to have four children, it's none of your affair, John Bates. Who are you, to dictate the size of my family?"

John's eyes twinkled with amusement. "We-e-l-l—," he began, and burst into a gale of laughter.

An instant later Susan was laughing with him.

She got up and began to brush the sand off her bathing suit. "Shall we join the rest of the—er—daisy-pickers? I'm sure they are back from the wars by this time."

John struggled to his feet, groaning as he did so. "I guess we'd better. Steve is probably throwing conviction fits. And I'd better start doing something about this sunburn. If I remember correctly, it's a big night tonight. We're supposed to go into town and paint the night clubs red. I wouldn't want to disgrace you appearing at the Club Pelican looking like a boiled owl."

"You know, Johnnie," said Susan, lowering her eyes and twirling the strap of her bathing suit around her fingers, "somehow I dread tonight. Several weeks ago, when I made the reservations at the theater and night club, I thought it would be fun."

"Well, won't it?" asked John, knowing very well that, as far as he was concerned, it would be anything but fun.

"No, it won't. And you know it," she blurted out. "It'll be just another endurance test, and I'm afraid I can't take it. Oh, I know I sound like an awful moocher, but these people do dreadful things to me."

John nodded. "You're telling me?"

"They make me feel—well, sort of useless and helpless, as if there's no sense trying to help anybody any more," Susan went on. "It's their strange viewpoint, I suppose. They don't want to be happy—not really. If I stay around them much longer, I'll be thinking like them, acting like them, maybe looking like them. I—I guess I'm just sick and tired of the whole thing."

John caught her arm and drew her close to him. Her nearness intoxicated his senses, and he was a little annoyed to hear himself saying:

"Poor baby. So they're shooting your illusions plumb to hell, eh? What do you say, sugar—shall we chuck the whole thing? How about us scrambling—together?"

"Oh, but we couldn't do that. I'd be out of a job and I'd be scared. Don't forget I've still got to live. Maybe I should have let myself drown after all," she added, laughing a trifle shakily at this melodramatic statement.

"Here goes my freedom," thought John, but he rose to the occasion and said with all the gallantry he could muster on such short notice: "You don't have to worry, baby."

home. The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Charles L. Gentzler, who also led in prayer. Miss Stambaugh read the Scripture lesson, and Mrs. Paul E. Jacobs gave a sacred reading. The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul P. Lerew, Sr.

Among guests this week at the home of Mrs. Curtis W. Deatrick and Miss Ruth A. Deatrick R. 2, were the Charles Flitz family and Mrs. Anna Zortman, Hanover.

You won't starve as long as I have a job. Any time you say, we'll get married. I'm taking you away from all this."

She drew away from him, once more the unpredictable Susan. "Oh, no, you're not! I'm seeing this thing through if it kills me. It probably will. But as for getting married—why, you're crazy, John Bates. Didn't I just tell you I don't intend to marry anybody—ever?"

She hadn't told him that—not precisely. But John was a little relieved. He'd sooner marry Susan than anybody, he reflected. He liked her a whole lot—loved her, in fact. However, he wasn't getting married to anybody, if it was humanly possible to keep from it. He wanted to go places and do things.

Hand in hand they walked in silence down the beach, across the greensward, toward the big house, each absorbed in his own thoughts. Susan was thinking:

"He's sweet. He'll make some girl a fine husband. Too bad I'm not interested in marriage."

And John Bates was thinking: "Good grief, that was a narrow escape! Maybe I'd better scramble and pronto. If I stick around here much longer I'll be insisting that she marry me, and I won't give her a minute's peace till she does."

Chapter 15

All through the contest, this particular night had been pigeon-holed in Susan's mind as "Theater and Supper Club Night." Steve had told her, just casually, to "get tickets and arrange for supper after the theater at one of the night spots." And somehow, in those work-filled days, she had wangled tickets to a musical comedy. For the night club, she had picked a noisy and not too expensive club with a small floor show. In the dim, distant past when she was not engaged in being hostess to a group of morons, Susan remembered, she had even found time to tell Steve about the tickets and reservations. His reply had been characteristic:

"The show's all right, I suppose. I haven't seen it—have you?" When Susan shook her head in the negative, he went on. "But that Venetian Garden you've chosen—that's little more than a juke joint. Call off reservation and phone Club Pelican. Ask for Albert and make the reservation in my name. It'll be okay."

Like a schoolgirl, she had gone and done as she was told. But tonight, as she went slowly down stairs to the living room, it was small satisfaction to realize that she had been right in her original choice. The Venetian Garden, even if it was a juke joint, would have been quite adequate. In fact, this crowd would have found a roadside tavern on Long Island just as exciting, if not more so, than the Club Pelican—the swankiest and most expensive night spot in town.

But there was at least some satisfaction in the knowledge that she looked her best. The midnight-blue faille dinner suit was sleek and elegant. With her curls piled high on her head and just a glint of gold-and-blue ear-rings to match the buttons on her suit jacket, Susan knew that she would appear as well dressed as any woman who entered the Club Pelican's portals.

As she walked toward the drawing room where Steve Gellis waited, she tried to forget for the moment that the house was peopled with a motley group, and that she was just doing a job. She pictured herself entering the drawing room, where Steve would get up languidly from an arm-chair—he would be dressed in a tuxedo, of course. And he would come-forward smiling, as if he and she were the only two people in the world who really counted.

GOP WANT TAX SLASH MEASURE PASSED TODAY

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The GOP leadership threatened to keep today's senate session going on into the night if necessary to obtain passage of the tax cut bill.

With approval of the measure conceded, main interest centered on the size of the majority as a yardstick to show whether President Truman's forthcoming second veto can be overridden.

The no-quarter maneuvering by both sides to line up their forces for that test went on grimly behind the scenes.

Determined to send the bill to the White House quickly, assistant majority leader Wherry (R-Neb) said he planned a rare Saturday night session unless the senate accepted during the day the bill already re-passed by the house to slash income taxes 30 to 10.5 percent beginning Jan. 1.

Senator Barkley (Ky), the Democratic leader, asked Wherry during debate late yesterday whether he proposed a Sunday session.

"We'll cross that river when we come to it," the Nebraskan snapped.

A two-thirds majority of both houses is required to make the bill law over Mr. Truman's objections. Such a ratio appears likely in the house, where the bill passed 302 to 112. The division of sentiment in the senate, however, admittedly is much closer.

Senator Wagner (D-NY), counted as a sure supporter of the veto, is ill at his home and cannot be present for the big showdown.

Senator Tobey (R-NH), who voted for the first tax bill, was called to his New Hampshire home because of illness in his family.

Should both Wagner and Tobey

"Hold it, folks—might as well get the picture!" said a hearty voice. But Steve did not at once release her. He held her for perhaps a second longer, and his whisper was so soft that only she could hear him: "Sweet . . . so sweet!"

It was enough. No girl needed more. Susan turned to John Bates with a radiant smile—unapologetic and unembarrassed. She patted her-upswaps with assurance.

"Susan, my dear," she told herself, "you're growing up!"

The next half-hour passed without even a thought of those precious moments. There were twelve persons to allot to two cars. It did not seem to matter at all that Ellen Mansfield elected to ride with Steve, and there was no place left for Susan but the station wagon. The important thing was that Steve himself blew her a fleeting kiss before he stepped into his car.

"How are you doing, Susie?" John Bates' voice was pitched low, for her ears alone. Susan answered him dreamily in the same soft voice:

"Wonderful, John. Isn't it a perfect night?"

"Poor Susie! Just riding along on a rose-colored cloud!"

"Referring to the scene you bungled into, I suppose?"

"What else?" returned John.

"I thought you didn't believe in romance. Can't a girl get kissed without you reading a proposal and live-happily-ever-after into it?"

"Some girls can. But not you, Susie. You play for keeps. And that's what a man like Steve wouldn't understand. He's so used to all this debatable froth, he thinks all girls are the same. You may get hurt, sugar, because Steve's kind is the wrong kind for girls like you."

"You needn't go on," Susan managed to interrupt, in a choked voice. "You're just trying to say Steve's out of my class. I don't need a diagram. I know it."

"Listen, baby, there's no one in the world in your class—as far as I'm concerned. I just don't want to see you get hurt."

"Why, thank you, John," said Susan formally.

John shook his head, but the traffic was taking up his attention now. Susan leaned away from him and started drawing on her gloves. In spite of her words, the evening had lost some of its glamor.

One-Day Antlerless Season Is Announced For December 13

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—The state Game Commission announced today a one-day antlerless deer season throughout Pennsylvania next December 13 to give landowners "much needed relief from deer depredations."

The regular buck season was fixed at the same time for December 1 to 12 inclusive with a hunter limited to one deer, either a legal antlered buck killed during the regular season or an antlerless one shot on the single day. A camp limit of six may include a combination of both.

"The commission decided in favor of the one-day antlerless season rather than resort to opening numerous counties under special permits," the agency said in a statement.

"The commission felt this action would be more acceptable to sportsmen, even though surplus deer may not be reduced to the desired level as quickly in more than 30 counties requesting relief. Hunters are urged to confine their antlerless deer hunting to farming areas and adjacent areas to give landowners much needed relief from deer depredations."

Other changes—bag limit changes included: Same game season during the full month of November with the exception of ruffed grouse which may be hunted only from November 1 to November 7 and a restricted season on wild turkeys—November 1 to November 15—in 10 counties and closing of 11 others entirely.

A deer season from November 17 to November 22; Hares (snowshoe rabbits) December 22 to January 1; and a raccoon season from noon, October 15 to February 1, 1948, and trapping from November 1 to February 1, without a bag limit.

Seasons on fur-bearing animals: Minks, otters and skunks, Nov. 1 to Feb. 1; muskrats, Dec. 1 to Feb. 1; beavers Feb. 15 to March 1.

Woodchucks and grackles will be fair game throughout the year except in October and opossums again go on the unprotected list.

The restricted turkey season will be limited to Cameron, Clarion, Clinton, Elk, Forest, Lycoming, McKean, Potter, Tioga and Warren counties and was set, the commission said, "because of strong sentiment which developed against the unsportsmanlike practices of bear hunters who shot turkeys last season with high-powered rifles, literally blowing them to pieces, thus wasting these valuable birds."

Judge Lenient With Woman Defendant

Norristown, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Judge George C. Corson granted clemency to Mrs. Helen King, 20-year-old former model of Ardmore, Pa., jailed on a charge of stealing $1,000 worth of jewelry, because her husband testified he was a "good time Charlie."

"I begged my wife for money all the time," the husband, Bernard, 22, told the Montgomery county jurist yesterday. "If she stole, it was for me."

Mrs. King had been in prison 40 days on a charge of taking the jewelry from a neighbor last September 10. The jewelry was restored to its owner.

Judge Corson sentenced her to 40 days and fined her $1 and $49 costs, then released her on parole after she paid the $50.

He commented: "This is your first offense and perhaps it is due to the fact that you loved your husband a little too much."

Mystery Cloaks Firemen's Drowning

Point Marion, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Earl Mangello, 22, Uniontown fireman and World War II veteran, drowned in the Cheat River last night.

Searchers recovered his body with a grappling hook several hours later. Fayette county officials were seeking to learn how the drowning occurred. Mangello, who had come to Point Marion to attend a firemen's celebration, last was seen standing on the bridge waiting a ride to Uniontown.

MONDAY, TUESDAY
Bringing to its fullest realization a revolutionary new motion picture technique, "Boomerang!" the new Twentieth Century-Fox hit presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, opens Monday at the Majestic theatre. With Dana Andrews as its star, the picture tells an astounding stranger-than-fiction story that for sheer drama and absorbing entertainment is said to be best among the year's screen offerings.

"Boomerang!" brings exciting screen life to the strangest case in American court history—the gripping story of a man, a State's attorney, who placed a higher value on the life of another man than on his own political ambitions. When, during the 1920's, the case reached its spectacular climax in the courtroom of a Connecticut city, its dramatic impact was felt throughout the length and breadth of the country.

The twentieth in the popular "Blondie" series, "Blondie's Holiday," will play Wednesday at the Majestic theatre. Penny Singleton playing Blondie, Arthur Lake as Dagwood and Larry Simms as Alexander, are the top featured players. Marjorie Kent, Jerome Cowan and Grant Mitchell have other featured roles.

Constance Lee's original screenplay, based upon the comic strip "Blondie" created by Chic Young, is reported to be a highly diverting story packed with Dagwood's hijinks. Dagwood is fired from his job, takes to betting on the ponies and is snatched from a difficult situation by a whirlwind finish.

THURSDAY
"The Private Affairs of Bel Ami," starring George Sanders, will be the attraction at the Majestic on Thursday.

The lush Paris of the '80's is the setting for this fascinating tale of suave intrigue in top newspaper and political circles. The part of the shrewd and ambitious journalist, George Duroy (the Bel Ami of the title), is played by Sanders. This role seems custom-made for him, allowing him to give free vent to the cynical epigrams provided by the distinguished French literature. Co-starring with Sanders are Angela Lansbury, who plays charmingly the beautiful young widow he comes closest to loving, and Ann Dvorak, as the sophisticated woman of the world who helps him achieve his insatiable ambitions.

FRIDAY, SATURDAY
The romantic leads of "The Farmer's Daughter," are played by Joseph Cotten and Loretta Young.

A young farm girl's political aspirations motivate "The Farmer's Daughter," RKO Radio's new comedy-drama of American life, starring Loretta Young, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore.

The girl from the country goes to the city to work as a maid. Her employers, a young Congressman (Cotten) and his mother (Miss Barrymore) are supporting their party's political hack for a congressional vacancy. The girl speaks out at a political rally confounding the candidate and as a result, the opposition persuades her to run against him. Aided by Cotten, who has fallen in love with her, she successfully combats a smear campaign and wins the election, and incidentally, her fellow Congressman.
